

JOLLY IS SENTENCED

He Gets Three and a Half Years in the Pen.

ONCE HE WAS A GOOD MAN

His Attorney Makes a Plea for Leniency—Hooper's Case—Other Minor Matters in the District Court.

Butte, Sept. 25.—Jack Jolly, who was convicted on a charge of making a murderous assault on Lyman W. Byther with a knife, and whose intentions to kill were not defeated by any wish or act of his own, was let off with a sentence of three years and a half in the penitentiary, and he owes his light sentence entirely to his attorney, George Haldorn, who started out to get the fellow off on the lightest possible penalty, and succeeded, notwithstanding public feeling was altogether against Jolly. When the prisoner was called up for sentence this morning before Judge Speer Mr. Haldorn made a plea for leniency and referred to the fact that Jolly at one time was an honest man and an industrious blacksmith; that his wife and six children died in one summer and that he then started on his way to the bad and entered politics, and going from bad to worse he became a knife man, and just before he reached the depths he became a deputy United States marshal during the Coxey movement. Mr. Haldorn said the assault on Byther was certainly the act of a drunken man, or a man absolutely crazy. He didn't know what he was doing though he had a pen knife in his hands and was engaged in paring his finger nails when Byther approached him and Jolly took a notion to make a dash at his jugular. If Jolly had not had the misfortune to have that knife in his hands, said Mr. Haldorn, the affair would have been nothing but a plain case of assault and battery. It was a very unfortunate knife, and not Jolly that cut Byther in the abdomen and neck. As far as Jolly was concerned the cutting was certainly accidental. Mr. Haldorn also called attention to the fact that Jolly entered the room with the knife in his hand, which in itself was proof that he had no intention of using it on Byther's jugular and the testimony further showed that prior to the attempted murder Jolly and Byther were the best of friends. In view of these facts and in consideration of the further fact that Jolly once was a good and honest man, and city marshal at the same time that his honor was city attorney, Mr. Haldorn asked that the sentence be made as light as possible.

E. S. Booth, the deputy county attorney, in reply to Mr. Haldorn, was forced to admit that at one time Jolly stood well in society. As much could be said of any other criminal. Mr. Booth said there was no doubt as to Jolly's intention when he entered Byther's place with a knife in his hand and the plea that it was an accident could be made in every case of murder or attempted murder. The defendant should be satisfied with the leniency granted by the jury in reducing the crime from assault in the first degree to one of the second degree. Mr. Booth said he knew of no extenuating circumstances that could be offered and that a good sentence should be imposed not only as a punishment to the defendant but also as a warning to other offenders.

In passing sentence Judge Speer said that there were two classes of people in Butte who had expressed themselves as to Jolly's case. One class, who had not known him when he stood well in the community, thought the most severe punishment would be proper in his case. The other class were old timers, and among them some of the best people in the city, who had a great deal of sympathy for the defendant and believed that he was not yet beyond redemption, and it was to the requests of this class the court was going to pay attention. The judge said the fixing of the sentence on Jolly was one of the most unpleasant duties he had ever been called upon to perform and then sentenced him to three and a half years, a sentence with which Jolly afterwards expressed himself well satisfied.

The case against Edward Babb, who shot at with intent to kill Frank Welden several months ago, had been set for trial to-day but on the statement of Mr. Booth that the case would probably be otherwise disposed of it was continued until to-morrow morning.

In the case of Officer John Hooper, charged with assault in the first degree, his attorney, John Lindsay, today filed a motion to quash and set aside the information on the same grounds raised in a score of other cases and overruled by the court. The motion was set for hearing on Saturday.

Charles Warfield pleaded not guilty to the charge of grand larceny.

The Deep Waterway Convention.

Cleveland, Sept. 25.—At the opening of the morning session of the deep waterways convention to-day a partial report of the committee on credentials was submitted indicating the presence of 130 delegates from 15 states and provinces. President Bowland stated that he had received a communication from Sir MacKenzie Bowell, premier of Canada, designating the eminent and eloquent Mr. Munroe to represent the Canadian government at the convention. Bowland invited Lieut. George P. Blow, who came to the convention as the representative of the United States government, and Munroe, to take seats on the platform. He said the action of the two governments in sending representatives to the convention did not in any way commit them to the policy of the convention. After the adoption of a rule limiting the speeches to 10 minutes discussion was declared in order. Richard O'Donnell, agitator of the "Mr. and Mrs. Dobbell of Quasile, and A. L. Crocker, president of the Minneapolis board of trade, gave abstracts of papers they had prepared on "Export Lumber and Timber Trade."

Another Turn for Suits.

Bozeman, Sept. 25.—Bids were opened here to-day for the erection of the Agricultural college. There were seven bids, all very close. C. Sutter of Missoula, being the lowest. The figures are not made public and will not be until the state board endorses the action of to-day. Contractors here guess that the bid was very close to $30,000. Mr. Sutter, who has the contract for the Normal college at Dillon, is being warmly congratulated by his friends who are glad to see him get this work.

IT'S OFFICIAL.
The Land Commissioners Will Continue Work at the Old Stand.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Secretary Smith has directed that the mineral land commissioners in Montana and Idaho shall continue the work of making examinations of lands in the Northern Pacific grant. The commissioners were stopped by reason of the appropriation being exhausted, but it has been determined under the law the commissioners must continue work even if a deficiency is created.

THE MARKET.

New York, Sept. 25.—Speculation to-day, while irregular at intervals, was in the main towards a higher level. The volume of business was about up to the recent average and the fluctuations in a number of instances were material.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Live Stock.
Chicago, Sept. 25.—There was a very slow demand for cattle and prices ruled 10 cents lower. Common to choice and fancy steers, $10.00 to $10.50; stockers and feeders in good demand, prices about 15 cents lower than last week; common to choice, $12.00 to $12.50; butchers and canners, $12.00 to $12.50; western range 10 cents lower and sales went slower than they have been. The bulk are going at $10.00 to $10.50, with occasional sales as high as $10.00 to $10.50.

Hogs were in good demand at about unchanged prices. Packers, $7.50 to $8.00; shippers, $4.00 to $4.50; common to choice heavy, $5.00 to $5.50; butchers, $4.50 to $5.00; mixed, $4.00 to $4.50.

Trade in sheep was fairly good but slightly lower. Prices of inferior to fine sheep, $1.00 to $1.50; western, $1.00 to $1.50; lambs, $2.00 to $2.50.

Receipts—Cattle, 18,000; calves, 500; hogs, 25,000; sheep, 22,000.

Chicago Wheat Market.

Wheat went up with a whirl and down with a thud to-day, closing 1/4 cent lower for December. The bulk started on the curb yesterday afternoon on a dispatch from London saying that Russia was now offering very little wheat, the current shipments being wheat sold some time ago for September and October delivery. A good deal of this strength was left over and affected the market at the opening. Later the market began to weaken. Longs began to realize profits and the price went off 1/4 cents from the high point.

Close—December wheat, 94 1/2; corn, 25 1/2; May oats, 20; January pork, 28 1/2; lard, $5.50; ribs, $4.50.

Receipts—Wheat, 40,000 bushels; corn, 40,000 bushels; oats, 70,000 bushels.

Copper Market.

From Engineering and Mining Journal.

Not much of interest is to be reported this week. The market was very dull and the transactions were small. On the whole the price of lake copper is very well maintained, and had it not been for a few small lots of second-hand copper sold on exchange at from 12 to 13.00 no change could be reported, as Lake copper is still being sold at first hand at 12 1/2.

Neither can we find that electrolytic copper is obtainable at any special concessions and we have to quote 11 1/2 to 11 3/4. Casting copper has remained steady at 11 1/2 to 11 3/4.

In the absence of any business of importance all the above quotations are more or less nominal. The exports continue quite small and are not likely to assume larger proportions as long as the parity of prices is higher over here than on the other side. On the contrary it pays better to ship copper from Europe to our side, but this movement has not made any great progress, and the arrivals so far have been quite unimportant.

The market in Europe has been somewhat irregular and the quotation for G. M. B. ranges from 14 1/2 to 15 1/2 for spot, down to 14 1/2 to 15 1/2 for spot, closing at 14 1/2 for spot, and 14 1/2 to 15 1/2 for three months prompt. For refined and manufactured we quote: English tough, 15 1/2 to 16 1/2; best selected, 15 1/2 to 16 1/2; strong sheets, 15 1/2 to 16 1/2; India sheets, 15 1/2 to 16 1/2; yellow metal, 4 1/2.

All reports from Europe are that the consumption of copper is very good. Statistics for the first fortnight in September show a large decrease, 1,500 tons.

The following figures give the production (in tons of 2,240 pounds) of copper in the United States and also by the chief foreign mines, with the exports from the United States, for August and the eight months ending August 31.

ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY

Pisor Says He Held the Man Up in Order to Get His Own Property—Pay Day at Horr—Notes.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.

Livingston, Sept. 25.—Operations at the Timberline coal mines, which were closed down the first of the month to reset the hoisting works and prepare for winter, will be resumed this week with the full force of 150 men. Senator C. W. Hoffman, who is operating the properties, was over from Bozeman Monday and stated that a new locomotive had been purchased for the mines with the plan to increase the output of Timberline coal.

Sheriff George T. Young went up to Horr Tuesday and arrested J. H. Pisor in charge of burglary in the first degree, preferred by J. H. Goldsworthy. The prisoner was arraigned in Justice Rose's court in this city and pleaded not guilty. The case was set for hearing next Friday and the defendant was released on $750 bonds. Goldsworthy accuses Pisor of having forcibly entered his bedroom last Friday night at Horr, and with a revolver in one hand and a club in the other, compelled him to open a gold watch valued at $40. Pisor claimed that the watch belonged to him and does not deny having secured it at the point of a gun.

The weather in this section of the state the past week has been of such wintry character as to cause a good many people to wonder what they have done with their summer wages. Snow has fallen in large quantities in the surrounding mountains and the sun has scarcely made its appearance during the past six days. At Yellowstone lake in the National park Sunday morning the thermometer registered six degrees below zero.

Saturday was payday at the Horr coal and coke camp and the company disbursed about $10,000. The mines and ovens are being run full blast, the company has nearly, if not quite, 300 men now on its pay roll and the camp is in a thriving condition.

William J. Hille of Great Falls has established himself in the jewelry business in this city and is located in the postoffice building. He has been appointed watch inspector for the Montana division of the Northern Pacific.

Mrs. Minnie M. Hilek of this city will begin a six months' term of school in the Conrow district next Monday.
